Awards In this installment of the UNSHUGGABLE Blog, we bring you another in a continuing series of great stories from over the past year plus! Today we present Awards to the giants in the Furry Fandom, including some T.L. Lewis, T. Russell, Travis Allen, Kevin Montague, Ron Cor and many more. While the Golden Mask Awards are a bit tongue and cheek, and certainly are not my choice of accolades for the superlative achievements of the furry fandom in years past and in years to come, they are a great, annual advertisement of the most definitely rising number of great artists, authors, knitters, and costumers within the Furry fandom. While clicking through the pictures was quite an emotional experience for myself, and I know for those who love the heroes and heroines the the award represent, I can understand why the Golden Masks need to be awarded annually. The past gives way to the future, and we have to recognize those people whose unique points in time shine as they are all important to the continued success of the fandom. I am so pleased to have been inspired by some of the many past and present Golden Masks that were created from their 2011 winners, and I am proud to continue in the tradition. Thank you to everyone who has ever won a Golden Mask, and here's to a great 2012! Unsung Heroes - The Golden Masks in 2011 This week represents awards to the finest furry writers and artists. How do you decide whom to honor? Is it based on sales? Temps? Heart? You decide for yourselves who means the most to you, and you join me in being proud of everyone in this new generation of fandom. The long list of 2011 Golden Mask winners (so far) is topped by ponytail Squeaks, who started the whole ball rolling. Well, at least to my mind, and you may disagree. I think MDK and the Ocean is one of the Farscape shows I was most proud of, and I was especially proud of the original fursuit, which came out of "Ship's Gun" (a milestone episode that is greatly under-appreciated). If I were a writer, I'd make up a different kind of award for those people in the fandom who produced the animation, the writing, the format, etc., of a show but didn't star in

Yu-Gi-Oh! World Championship 2017 is here! Play the Japanese Version of "Yu-Gi-Oh!" as you prepare to battle with five other high-level duelists in this highly anticipated anime-style card game. You have your choice of pre-constructed decks consisting of foil cards, so you can easily jump right into a duel. You will also have the option to create your own deck from scratch. The Duel Mode is also fully playable with this content. Quick & Fun: Pre-Constructed Decks Duelists can simply jump right into a duel without the hassle of creating their own decks. Your choice of pre-constructed decks include special versions of the Dark Mist Deck and the Evilswarm Deck that only these duelists can play. If you want, you can also create your own custom deck! To create your own custom deck from scratch, simply select "Custom Deck" from the "Tutorial" menu and create your custom deck of cards. If your pre-constructed deck is missing a character you want to use, you can simply select "Add Deck" from the "Tutorial" menu and create a new custom deck with the desired cards! With the simple-to-use "Custom Deck" function, you can always find the custom deck that best suits your playstyle and skill level! The World Championship 2017 Every year, our game developers take the time to design a completely new set of cards just for the Yu-Gi-Oh! World Championship tournament. The new set of cards is fully playable in the Duel Mode, but there are also some limitations on the newly released cards, so even though you are equipped with this new set of cards, you won't be able to make use of every card in your entire deck in this year's Yu-Gi-Oh! World Championship 2017. If you want to see the new cards that will be released in Yu-Gi-Oh! World Championship 2017 in action, take a look at the videos on our official YouTube channel! Easy Intuitive Interface Yu-Gi-Oh! World Championship 2017 has a totally different and easy-to-understand in-game interface compared to previous Yu-Gi-Oh! games. For example, the in-game interface will not list all the information you would need to use all your cards when you create a custom deck. Instead, you'll be able
