lolita fashion is a way to express yourself. it's a way to tell people who you are, without uttering a single word. lolita fashion is a way to portray your own personality, and this is why i believe that it has become so popular all over the world. just as what the punk movement did for punk music, lolita fashion has done for lolita. its an extension of the punk movement, and like the punk movement, it's a way to express your emotions, and to bring out the best in yourself. you don't have to wear a mask to become a lolita, you just have to express yourself. its an extension of the punk movement, and like the punk movement, it's a way to express yourself. in the early 1900s when japanese women were forced into the roles of housewives, it was common to dress like a man and be a man in japan. after the second world war, the women who refused to behave like men were branded as lolita. the name was a play on words and from there, the lolita community was born. lolita fashion is a lot of fun, the community embraces it and the fans love it. however, the community itself is a bit scattered, and ive never seen an organized meetup for lolita fans. which makes sense, because its a scene that isnt based in any one place. i do know that lyonys has some really talented artists, so maybe i will see you there! the lolita community is a subculture that is present all around the world. however, ive never met a member of the community, and theyre not all that easy to find online. you can connect with the lolita community on their facebook page or in their group on facebook. 5ec8ef588b
